CHARGING

Prior to using hair remover for the first time, charge it as follows.

- Ensure that your hands are dry.
- Connect the hair remover and power cable with a suitable 2-pin adaptor to a wall socket.
- Always ensure that the hair remover is in the OFF position and that the power is switched OFF at the wall socket BEFORE making the connection.
- To start charging, switch the power ON at the wall socket.
- Charge the hair remover for 5-7 hours.
- The hair remover is now fully charged and can be used for 5-7 days, depending on how long you use the hair remover on each occasion.
- Do not charge the hair remover for longer than the prescribed duration as this may prematurely decrease the charge-holding capacity of the hair remover or even damage the hair remover.

HAIR REMOVER

If you have never used an electric hair remover before, your skin will need time to adjust to the hair remover.

Maintenance

Initially, your skin may even become irritated and you may not achieve as close a hair removal as what you would expect. This is normal and with time, it will improve. Give yourself at least 2 weeks to become accustomed to the hair remover; when hair removing with wet skin, ensure that the power cord has been unplugged before handling.

CLEANING THE HAIR REMOVER

- Fine hair cuttings collect in the hair remover foils during use. For optimum performance, clean these parts after each use.
- Because this hair remover is suited for wet and dry use, you may simply rinse the hair remover foils under running water.
- When rinsing under running water, ALWAYS ENSURE that the hair remover power adaptor cable is disconnected from the hair remover and the hair remover is OFF.
- To clean the cutters, remove the cutter casing by pulling the casing off. Simply brush all hair away, then replace casing securely.
- Clean the hair remover after each use.
- When you have finished hair removing, turn the hair remover OFF and replace the protective cover.
